KHL Capital – Internship Program 2017

KHL Capital, one of the largest local private equity funds in Taiwan, is looking for intern candidates with excellent academic achievement, especially in corporate finance and accounting.

[Firm Intro]

Founded in 2014, KHL Capital focuses on investing in companies with stable growth in Asia, especially in the Greater China market. KHL’s portfolio is diversified across a wide spectrum of industries while focusing on technology, media and communications, Internet, healthcare and financial services. KHL’s ability to drive value growth in its portfolio companies is underpinned by its international resources, sector knowledge and profound network.

[Job Description]

The intern will work closely with KHL team members on a variety of private equity related projects and support KHL’s business across all aspects. The intern’s responsibilities will include the following:

- Collect financial and operating information and conduct analysis on industries and companies
- Build financial models to project financial results and value companies for return analysis
- Prepare presentation and meeting materials
- Participate actively in the assessment and execution of potential investment opportunities
- Complete ‘ad-hoc’ analysis
[Qualifications]

- University students in their senior year, graduate students, or fresh graduates preferred; preference given to finance/business major and those with one or two years of internship/working experience
- Excellent academic records (GPA: 3.8+), especially in finance and accounting courses
- Proven track record of being a top performer academically or professionally
- Proactive; strong attention to detail with exceptional work ethic
- Strong analytical and problem-solving skills
- Excellent Excel and PowerPoint skills; preference given to those with existing experiences in building financial models
- Native in Mandarin and fluent in English
- Willing to work beyond office hours when required

[Location]  Xinyi District, Taipei

[Internship Duration]

1) 8-week Full-time Summer Internship subject to school year, or
2) Off-cycle Part-time Internship, date of commencement subject to discussion.

Strong performer will have the opportunity to receive an offer for a full-time position.

[Contact]

Please send over your resume and transcripts to Alexis Chan at alexis.chan@khlcap.com.

The deadline for applications is July 7, 2017.